Remote Ordering Entry System (ROES) - CCP's photo lab, StarMark Imaging, offers an online image ordering service called ROES (Remote Order Entry System). ROES allows parents to order Kodak Professional prints of their own personal images taken with their own personal cameras (i.e. vacation, Thanksgiving party). Parents can go to <http://roes.starmarkimaging.com> and download the lab software. Parents would upload their images and select the size print they wish to order. We offer competitive prices on various sizes from wallet sizes up to a 30" platform. Parents can also create custom photo greeting cards, memory books and more. Parents will need to contact us to receive an account number that links their information with the school. For example, a parent of Atlee High School is assigned an account number ATL000001. Any orders placed using their own personal account number will be recorded. The school will receive 1% on any orders placed (excluding cost to ship) when they use a designated account. This system is similar to Target where the shopper can designate their purchase to a selected school.
